BEAR STORY .-- Quite a little excitement occurred in the village of Cheshire, the other day, by the ap pearance of a veritable "bear," epenly traversing the streets in broad daylight. Several shots were fired at it without effect. At length, as bruin was mounting a fence, Andrew Zinc closed in with him, in a hand to paw encounter, and with the assistance of some bystanders, captured Mr. Bear. It proves to be a cub, apparently less than a year old, about half grown, that had been chased from the mountains on the Virginia side, and had swam the river.
